Orange launches Office Fiber, the Ultra High Speed Internet for businesses

Orange is now offering businesses Ultra High Speed and highly reliable Internet connections through the fiber-optic network of ewz.zürinet in Zurich. With four different bandwidths of up to 50 Mbit/s download speeds and up to 30 Mbit/s upload speeds, Orange offers subscriptions tailored to various business needs. Companies that combine Office Fiber with Orange’s Internet telephony solutions (Office VoIP) can completely do away with the traditional fixed-line connection and save even more costs.

Thanks to Office Fiber Ultra High Speed Internet access, many business processes can be handled more efficiently. Long wait times when uploading or downloading large data quantities are a thing of the past with Office Fiber by Orange.

Orange offers the best price/performance ratio for a broadband Internet connection on the Swiss market with Office Fiber. While a traditional ADSL connection with 5,000/500 Kbit/s download and upload bandwidth including fixed-line connection generally totals over CHF 74.00, with Office Fiber an Orange Mobile company only pays CHF 59.00 for performance that is better several times over (30,000/1,000 Kbit/s download and upload).

A fixed-line network connection fee is not charged. Businesses that simultaneously sign up for an Office VoIP solution (Internet telephony solution) along with Office Fiber can confidently forego a traditional fixed-line network connection, thus saving additional costs.
